Forest supports living on earth: awareness of the youth at Jembrana Regency Bali Province Indonesia

Nyoman Mastiani Nadra
2021, International Journal of Green Tourism Research and Applications

Locals awareness of the importance of forest in sustaining the earth plays an important role in the success of forest conservation. Using forest as an agricultural area without depriving its main function requires awareness of the farmers including the people living around the forest. This study examines the level...
